I know someone who loves creepy crawly things.
And I know someone who's shy with everything.

We all have a special voice. And like the stars,
it's what makes us all unique and who we are.

I know someone who cries all the time.
And I know someone who hardly ever cries.

We all have a special voice. And like the stars,
it's what makes us all unique and who we are.

Colors are different. Sounds are all different.
Everyone's making the world wonderful!

It's time for me to start listening to my heart.
The feelings that I hide are like a voice inside.

They are often hard to say. But I know it's okay!
My inner voice will always find a way!

Can you hear me? I am singing! This is my melody!
Come join us! Join our chorus, and we'll sing in harmony!
